

Summit Solves No Issues, Leaders To Stay In Touch

Fiscal Reform Negotiations Continue Today

LANING (AP) — House Democrats tried again today to expand current tax reform talks to include Senate negotiators, but met solid opposition from House Republicans and Gov. George Romney.

House Minority Leader William Ryan (D-Detroit), opened the third day of talks with a repeat of his earlier request that Senate Republicans and Democrats, who have already passed a tax program, be included in the bipartisan attempt to work out a House plan.

Republican negotiators objected on the grounds that a program must first be worked out which will be able to gather enough votes for passage in the House.

LANING (AP) — House Democrats — involved in last ditch tax reform negotiations with Gov. George Romney and House Republicans — planned another try today at bringing Senate party leaders into the talks.

"We're going to try again for four-party negotiations," Rep. William Ryan, House minority leader, told the Democratic State Central Committee Sunday.

"We are within a short stone's throw of agreement on a program," he said. "But this doesn't mean the Senate is going to agree with our House program."

Senate Included
Ryan said that with the current fiscal year ending June 30, time is too short to pass a House tax reform program, then attempt to reach a compromise between that and the one already passed by the Senate.

Marathon bargaining sessions took place Thursday and Friday in Romney's office. They were to continue today.

Democrats from the House asked that Senate leaders also be included in the conferences. Republicans, however, vetoed the request, saying the next fiscal reform action must be taken by the House alone.

"Within the next seven days, fiscal reform within the state will be achieved," Ryan predicted.

Negotiating sessions sparked more hope for a reform program than there has been all during the legislative session.

Bipartisan bargainers from the House reached tentative agreement Friday on all but two points of a revenue-increasing tax package. Democrats — who already appeared to have won most of what they wanted in the negotiations — were asking to increase the rate of the proposed corporate income tax from 5½ per cent to 6 per cent and to include in the fiscal package a $3 per-person annual sales tax refund.

Oswald Had Enough Time, Network Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System said Sunday its investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy found that Lee Harvey Oswald had enough time to fire three shots at the auto carrying Kennedy.

Many critics of the 26-volume Warren Commission report have contended that the rifle used by Oswald was not capable of being fired three times in 5.6 seconds — the time commission tests indicated was used in firing the shots.

Other critics have pointed to the amateur film taken by Abraham Zapruder on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, which also puts the time angle in doubt.

CBS said in the first of a four-part series on the assassination that it concluded "a Mannlicher-Carcano rifle can be fired as accurately and rapidly — and probably more — as the commission believed."

Al-o, CBS said, the film shot by Zapruder "was quite possibly running slower than the commission thought." Blurs on three of the film frames indicates "something startled Mr. Zapruder," CBS said. It said evidence showed "a rifle shot is what startled him."

CBS said that in its experiments from a 60-foot tower, the same height as the sixth-floor window of the School Book Depository, one of its 11 volunteer marksmen made three hits in 5.2 seconds. CBS said another got one hit from three shots in 4.1 seconds — all with Mannlicher-Carcano rifles.

CBS said its investigation supported Warren Commission findings that Oswald owned a rifle, took one to the depository building, and Oswald was in the building on the sixth floor when the three shots were fired.

Walter Cronkite who narrated the program, said the network's second and third telecasts would cover conspiracy theories.

Pope Creates 27 Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI opened a week of ceremony and festivity today creating 27 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church. Four are Americans.

The Pope met in secret consistory with 35 members of the Sacred College of Cardinals for them to confirm his 27 nominees to their ranks. The meeting lasted 23 minutes. The confirmation was automatic.

Wednesday, at a semi-public consistory, the Pope will present the red biretta — the three-angled pillbox hat — to 24 of the new cardinals. Thursday, they will join him in celebrating Mass in St. Peter's Square, a public ceremony being held outdoors for the first time so that more people may attend.

The other three new cardinals are the papal nuncios, or ambassadors, to Catholic Spain, Portugal and Italy. Because of the Church's special position in those countries and their concordats with the Vatican, the three nuncios will get their red hats from the chiefs of state.

Those holding this general view say the Communists have been replacing many more anti-aircraft guns in the 150-mile long North Vietnamese panhandle, and that concentrating attacks there would not likely reduce the toll of U. S. planes.

Moreover, they contend that the movement of material should be interdicted not only at the lower end of the funnel but at the top where it enters the infiltration pipeline. Officials inclined toward a slowdown in the air war are not all civilians. Some military men also have doubts about the effectiveness of the bombing.

And those favor at least continuing the present level of air strikes — and possibly an intensification — are not all military. It is known, however, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously and vigorously oppose any easing off of the air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam.

Positions Unchanged On Mideast, Vietnam

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin have failed to resolve any of their differences over such major world issues as Vietnam and the Middle East, but they intend to keep in direct contact on these and other problems they debated in their Glassboro summit conference.

The conference ended Sunday night after the two men had spent almost 10 hours together in two days at the small New Jersey town south of Philadelphia. Both told a cheering rain-drenched crowd of their desire to promote peace in the world.

Kosygin returned to New York in a helicopter provided by the President and held a news conference at the United Nations. There he abandoned the smiling countenance displayed at Glassboro and reverted to familiar Soviet attacks on Israel in the Middle East and the United States in Vietnam.

Johnson returned to Washington and said in a broadcast statement that "no agreement is readily in sight on the Middle Eastern crisis, and our well-known differences over Vietnam continue."

But he added: "I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made the world a little less dangerous."

Leaves Today

Kosygin was scheduled to leave New York about noon today, returning to Moscow to report in detail to his Kremlin colleagues on his talks with Johnson. He indicated at the news conference he might visit some other countries on the way but did not say which ones.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, both now in New York, left with the hard task of trying to negotiate some concrete records out of what Johnson called "the spirit of Hollybush." They are expected to begin a series of talks in a day or so.

Hollybush is the name of the home of President Thomas E. Robinson of Glassboro State College where Johnson and Kosygin met on Friday and Sunday.

The major impression left by the conference was that the two leaders, while failing to resolve any of their major differences, had at least demonstrated the intention to keep their conflicts in bounds and thus reduce the risk of nuclear war.

Statements Differ

The two leaders took sharply different lines in their postcon-ference statements. Johnson conceded the persistence of disagreements but emphasized his hopes for the future. Kosygin, focused on his demands for an Israeli rollback in the Middle East and renewed the Soviet accusation of U.S. aggression in Vietnam.

Asked whether Johnson would receive as warm a welcome in the Soviet Union as Kosygin had received at Glassboro, the premier indicated that Johnson would not be invited under present conditions.

"I believe," he said, "if aggression were ended and a truly peaceful policy were pursued, the welcome of President Johnson in the Soviet Union would be truly cordial indeed."

The premier called the Glassboro talks "useful" because they gave the President and him an opportunity to "compare positions on the questions discussed." He made no reference to a point which Johnson stressed — the chance for the two to at least talk directly about their discords.

Dangers Not Over

Referring to Vietnam and the Arab-Israeli conflict, Johnson said: "I was very glad to hear the chairman's views face to face, and to have a chance to tell him directly and in detail just what our purposes and policies are — and are not — in these particular areas."

"Meetings like these do not themselves make peace," Johnson said at another point in his report to the nation after returning to Washington. "We must all remember that there have been many meetings before and they have not ended all of our troubles or our dangers."

"But I can also repeat on this Sunday afternoon another thing I said on Friday: that it does help a lot to sit down and look at a man — right in the eye — and try to reason with him, particularly if he is trying to reason with you."

"I said on Friday that the world is very small and very dangerous. Tonight I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made it a little smaller, too, but also a little less dangerous."

Alone Half Time

A little more than half of the 10 hours the two men spent together was spent apart from their advisers, attended only by interpreters. This gave them unusual opportunity to talk in full secrecy about their disagreements and about the possibilities of future action to narrow them.

In his news conference Kosygin stuck rigidly to his insistence that a precondition of any general settlement in the Middle East must be Israeli withdrawal.

Premier Kosygin Leaves For Cuba

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left the United States for Cuba today after an historic nine-day stay in this country during which he met with President Johnson and pleaded the Arab cause before the United Nations General Assembly.

The Russian's big turboprop aircraft, Ilyushin 18, lifted off a runway at Kennedy Airport at 12:07 p.m. and turned south toward Cuba on a flight expected to take just over four hours.

Kosygin would be the first high-ranking Soviet official to visit the Caribbean regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro since Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan traveled there in 1962.

Before taking off, Kosygin held an impromptu news conference at the airport during which he indicated, as he did Sunday, that President Johnson might not be welcome to visit the Soviet Union at present.

As Kosygin left, the U.N. General Assembly debate on the Middle East ground on.

Albania, Communist China's voice at the United Nations, was expected to attack Kosygin for his summit talks with President Johnson.

The Soviet premier arrived in New York June 17 on his first visit to the United States. He has been attending the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly, sightseeing in New York City and Niagara Falls, and talking with President Johnson in Glassboro, N.J.

Position Unchanged

The Soviet leader made plain at an 80-minute news conference Sunday night that his 10 hours of talks with Johnson had not shifted his public stand on the Arab-Israeli conflict one iota.

He argued once more for the resolution he introduced a week ago to condemn "Israel's aggressive acts" and demand her withdrawal from territory in Egypt, Jordan and Syria occupied in the June 5-10 war. He said delay in the withdrawal "would only enhance the risks of war breaking out again."

In the first week of the assembly session, he said, "the results have been positive" in that "the majority of speakers have condemned the aggression of Israel and called for the withdrawal of troops behind the armistice lines."

He did not go so far as to predict that his resolution would be adopted. But he said that "if the General Assembly could adopt a decision along those lines, it could then entrust the Security Council with implementing that decision, and if that decision were not complied with, then appropriate sanctions could be applied."

Only After Withdrawal

Only after Israel's withdrawal, he said, could there be consideration of such questions as limiting arms shipments to the Middle East, guaranteeing the existence of all states there and ensuring freedom of passage through disputed waterways — "questions the solution of which could bring about a stronger peace in the area."

The United States is sponsoring a resolution calling for negotiations on withdrawal and all related questions together.

Kosygin said he had met with representatives of almost all Arab countries. He declined to confirm persistent reports that the Soviet Union is sending Egypt and Syria arms to replace those they lost in the fighting. But he said it intended "to go on strengthening" its relations with Arab governments.

33 Flee Fire In Plane Crash

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A United Air Lines jet prop plane with 23 persons aboard crashed and caught fire today when a nosewheel collapsed on takeoff from Kent County Airport.

The 20 passengers and crew of three escaped from the burning craft by sliding down chutes attached to exits. One woman, Mrs. William Taggart Jr., of Grand Rapids, was injured as she left the plane.

The fire in the baggage bin was quickly extinguished by a airport fire department.

An airline spokesman said the accident occurred when the nosewheel collapsed as the craft was about halfway down the runway. The plane, a Viscount, was UAL Flight 634 from Grand Rapids to Washington, with stops scheduled for Lansing and Detroit.

Mrs. Taggart was rushed by ambulance to a hospital, where she was reported suffering from facial cuts and possible side and back injuries.

Air War: Is Loss Greater Than Gain?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U. S. officials are beginning to think the air war against North Vietnam is yielding diminishing gains while toughened ground defenses are raising the price in U. S. warplanes.

Certain of them believe it might be a good idea to limit the bombing essentially to the supply routes running south through the narrow neck of North Vietnam and to cut down strikes against heavily defended industrial-type targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

But other authorities argue that to do so would result in swelling the volume of supplies and equipment to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Those holding this general view say the Communists have been replacing many more anti-aircraft guns in the 150-mile long North Vietnamese panhandle, and that concentrating attacks there would not likely reduce the toll of U. S. planes.

Moreover, they contend that the movement of material should be interdicted not only at the lower end of the funnel but at the top where it enters the infiltration pipeline. Officials inclined toward a slowdown in the air war are not all civilians. Some military men also have doubts about the effectiveness of the bombing.

And those favor at least continuing the present level of air strikes — and possibly an intensification — are not all military. It is known, however, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously and vigorously oppose any easing off of the air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam.

The Air Force and Navy were authorized last Feb. 22 to start hitting what one military source called "more lucrative targets" of an industrial and economic nature.

Now there are not many major targets left untouched. Yet the North Vietnamese continue to push their war effort in South Vietnam without any apparent letup.

Many bombed facilities have been rebuilt or put back in shape for at least limited use.

North Vietnam's biggest iron and steel complex, the Thai Nguyen steel mill 38 miles north of Hanoi, is reported to be completely out of production. But it took at least 10 raids to achieve this.

One of three major MIG jet fields has been bombed and strafed at least nine times. But military officers do not claim that the Kep base, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, is out of action. They have seen too many examples of North Vietnamese ability to make quick repairs.

The most important targets still untouched are Haiphong harbor and three MIG fields in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

It is U. S. policy to spare Haiphong harbor and its approaches from attack for fear that raids might force the Soviet Union into a confrontation with the United States.

The military chiefs long have urged closing Haiphong, through which an estimated two-thirds of North Vietnam's military and civilian imports are channeled, much of it in Soviet ships.

A total of 559 U.S. warplanes have been lost over North Vietnam, 139 of them since the first of the year.

American pilots have shot down 77 North Vietnamese MIG's, probably downed 9 more, and destroyed at least 8 on the ground.

U.P. Leads State In Brandy Buying

The annual Upper Peninsula meeting of the State Liquor Control Commission in Escanaba today is occasion for a review of the liquor traffic and especially a question about why the Upper Peninsula drinks so much brandy.

There are many explanations about the U.P.'s brandy taste. The facetious say "It's cold outside."

Part of the volume, it is suggested by others is contributed by persons whose doctors take them off whisky, but humorism with permission for "a little brandy."

This is interpreted by some drinkers as a fifth a day, but this explanation runs out of logic, anyway, unless U.P. physicians give different counsel than those below Mackinac, and that isn't believable.

Except The East

The brandy drinking increase in the U.P. is a phenomenon that the Liquor Control Commission has watched spread from store to store in the area. It keeps mushrooming.

An exception is the Eastern U.P. the Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace areas. They haven't joined the change. They're more oriented to the Lower Peninsula. It doesn't drink so much brandy.

The U.P. drinks less than 3 per cent of all the liquor sold in Michigan, but it drinks 26 per cent of all the brandy!

It has happened in the last 6 or 7 years and it has the whisky people wrinkling their foreheads in concern over sales. But actually most big distilleries have a brandy line, too, so it's just a question of which pocket.

Whisky is liquor distilled from grain. Brandy is a liquor distilled from wine, which is fermented from grapes.

Sales Are Up

Michigan is a wine producer in the Paw Paw area downstate, but not a distiller of brandy. It buys brandy of California to fortify the wines it sells with more than naturally fermented alcoholic content.

The bars are big buyers of brandy, so it isn't all going to home trade. Some of it is used in brandy manhattans and other mixed drinks and quite a bit of it in brandy on the rocks.

Liquor sales in the state are up 3.8 per cent over a year ago and in the U.P. they're up 2.6 per cent.

In the first quarter of this calendar year, ending in March, the state sold $197.6 million of liquor of which $5.5 million was sold in the U.P. A year ago in the same quarter the figures were $190.4 million and $5.1 million. This was the largest figure for this quarter in the history of U.P. liquor sales. The December second quarter is even larger as holiday sales push liquor to its annual peak.

In the first three quarters

Tornadoes Kill 22 In Europe

LONDON (AP) — Tornadoes and violent thunderstorms roaring across northwestern Europe over the weekend killed at least 22 persons and injured nearly 200.

A tornado that smashed parts of a half-dozen villages near Douai, France, left seven dead and about 110 injured. Six persons were killed and 17 injured when a tornado swept through parts of the Netherlands. Weathermen said it was the same tornado that struck the French villages.

Across the channel in Britain, five cave explorers drowned in an underground cave when water rushed in from a stream swollen by torrents of rain.

Weathermen said the extreme conditions were traceable to the collision of a hot, dry mass of air with a damp air mass off the Atlantic.

Rights Marcher Limp Onward

RATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights figure James H. Meredith limped onward in his Mississippi "walk against fear" today, but aching feet slowed the pace and may shorten the 200-mile march first planned.

With 37 miles behind him, Meredith started the third day by switching from his yellow hiking boots to a pair of shoes slit along the toes.

"I've been pushing it too fast," he said. "I hate to slow down but it doesn't look like I've got any choice."

In Sardis Sunday, as he celebrated his 34th birthday, Meredith said he may stop his walk along U.S. 51 at Canton, 25 miles short of the capitol at Jackson.

A year ago at Canton, Meredith resumed his march toward Jackson after recovering from wounds from an ambush shotgun blast on the second day of his trek. Canton is about 25 miles north of Jackson.

Meredith resumed the march Saturday at the place where he was shot.

Romney, Nixon Losing Ground

By JACK BELL
WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP) — An indicated drift among Western Republican governors away from the two current contenders pointed in the direction today of a wide-open scramble for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

By all of the recognizable but not always dependable signs, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 nominee, are losing ground to two men who say they are not candidates.

The flight of party conservatives from Nixon toward Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, shown at last week's meeting of the Young Republicans in Omaha, was acknowledged by Gov. David M. Cargo of New Mexico as a phenomenon that is becoming widespread.

Cargo, a Michigan native and close friend of Romney, has every reason for promoting Romney's candidacy. He had been expected to come up with a statement at a Jackson, Wyo., meeting later this week seeking to put a majority of the GOP governors behind Romney.

Instead, Cargo is talking in terms of heading an uncommitted New Mexico delegation to next year's nominating convention. He was expansive in his praise of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

After a survey, Cargo said 16 of the 25 Republican state executives privately think Rockefeller is the best qualified and most-likely-to-succeed candidate against President Johnson.

If this represents sentiment among the GOP executives, and if Romney should fall in the primaries, Rockefeller might represent a replacement despite his protestations that he will never seek the nomination again.

These primaries are looming larger in the calculations of the governors. They are wary of going out on any political limb for a candidate who might fail to make a credible showing with the voters.

Although Cargo said he thinks the 18 GOP governors he counts as moderates ought to get together on a candidate by next November, there was a great deal of doubt this would happen because of the primaries.

Reagan's name will be on the ballot in free-for-all contests in such states as Nebraska, Oregon and possibly Wisconsin. The feeling is that Romney will have to win the first test in New Hampshire to keep his flag flying. Rockefeller, on the other hand, may escape entry in the contests on the basis of his declaration that he is not a candidate.

Summer School Farm Tour Starts At Gould City On July 22; Plans Much Variety

FLAT ROCK—A comprehensive Summer School Program has been planned for the children of the Flat Rock Public Elementary School District of Escanaba Township.

The program includes band practice one day per week and a swimming program for beginners and intermediate group to be held two days per week, on Thursdays and Saturdays at the Gladstone beach.

A reading and math improvement program will be held for six weeks and will meet four days per week and two hours per day, starting July 19.

The band program will be under the direction of Paul Coven of Gladstone and the first meeting will be June 30.

The swimming program will be supervised by Gladstone life guards.

The reading improvement program will have Mrs. Joanne Christoff and Donn Hakanson as teachers, and Wayne Christoff will instruct the math group.

Henry Hughes will drive the bus for the reading and math children, and Fred Marengi will drive the bus for swimming. Registrations for the swimming class will be held Thursday morning, June 28.

People who like steak, milk, eggs, cranberry sauce and Michigan maple syrup will find something to interest them on the 1967 Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour July 22.

The event will include visits to beef, dairy and poultry farms as well as a maple syrup operation and an experimental cranberry bog.

The tour is designed to give U.P. farmers a look at some of the management and operating methods of successful farmers so that they can improve their own operation.

The tour will be conducted in Mackinac County. The program will begin at 10 a.m. on the Ron Clark cow-calf operation south and east of Gould City. Another program will be held simultaneously at the nearby Eric Strom syrup operation.

Visit Sugar bush

The Clark farm is east of Gould City Road, a mile south of US-2 and six miles west of M-17. The Strom farm is four miles south of Clark's.

Eric Strom and his brother Einer maintain a 100-acre sugarbush with 2,200 taps, which produced 690 gallons of syrup last season. The heart of the operation is a 5-by-16-foot oil-fired evaporator, one of about three in the entire Upper Peninsula. During the season Eric and Einer gather the sap, Eric's wife, Zelma, tends the sap house. The syrup is sold locally in containers ranging from five gallons to a pint in size.

The Strom brothers also cut and sell pulp wood from their woodlot, thinning out the less desirable trees.

Lunch At Engadine

The noon lunch and program will be at the Engadine Town Hall. A panel of four U.P. farmers will discuss their methods of operation and tell how they manage their farms. They are Pickford dairyman John Krommeyer, beef producer Jon Handl of Cooks, Crystal Falls potato farmer Edwin Jarvis and poultryman Rodney Richards of Newberry. After the noon program the tour will move to the Truman Miller poultry operation on M-117 north of Engadine. Miller houses his 6,100 hens in a modern 33-by-204-foot building with a recently constructed addition housing a pancel sales room and office.

The hens are kept in cages set up in a semi-stairstep pattern, two in each 8-by-16-by-16-inch cage.

The setup includes automatic watering. Feeding is done with a gasoline-powered cart which funnels feed into troughs hung in front of the cages as the cart is driven along the runway.

Elevator Operator

Miller operates the Engadine Feed & Supply Elevator, finds time to do most of the maintenance and repair work on refrigeration equipment for dairymen in the area, and occasionally turns his hand to installing tile floors for area residents.

The day-to-day operation of the poultry house is carried out by Mrs. Miller. Three of their five children are still home. They help out too, gathering the eggs at night.

The tour group will head north to Bill Edwards' Shady View farm after visiting the Miller operation.

Edwards houses his milking herd of 37 Holsteins in a station barn. The structure was remodeled in 1962, increasing its capacity from 15 cows to 40. A new concrete floor was poured and the building was raised to provide necessary head room. A concrete slave silo was added in 1965.

Milk Increased

When Edwards started milk production 12 years ago, he says, "The farm wouldn't keep 20 cows." Milk production at that time averaged little more than 6,000 pounds per cow. By 1965 it was up to 12,500.

Another problem faced by Edwards was the low fertility of his soil. He has increased its crop production capabilities considerably by the judicious use of fertilizers, green manure crops and other soil building practices.

An experimental cranberry plot planted by U.P. Extension workers south of Newberry will be the final stop. The plot has demonstrated that cranberries can be successfully produced in the eastern Upper Peninsula, and Extension agents hope it will be the forerunner of other commercially operated cranberry bogs in the area.

Cranberry Bog

The plot uses a sprinkler irrigation system for frost protection. It produced the equivalent of 145 barrels per acre in 1966. Statistics from Wisconsin show that the average commercial yield is 80 barrels per acre. Anything over 125 barrels is considered very good production.

Sponsors of the tour are the Mackinac - Luce Agricultural Council, the Upper Peninsula Extension Center, the Michigan State University Department of Agricultural Economics and the Cooperative Extension Service. Signs along the tour route will direct visitors to host farms.

Electric Power Halted; Cable TV Interrupted

A defective transformer in the Escanaba electric power distribution system caused power outage for about one hour Friday night and about one and one-half hours Sunday evening, it is reported by William Van Effen, utility superintendent.

The power failure created difficulties in transmission for a number of customers, including American Cablevision, whose programs were interrupted Friday and Sunday.

The Tax Trouble

The Associated Press reported in the weekend that a 2 1/2 per cent state income tax appeared more likely than it had been so far this year. Legislators who control its fate say that there's still difficulty ahead for the measure, but that enactment could come as a surprise at any time.

There's only this week to go before the Legislature must have its budget for the next year ready and our new constitution says that it can't appropriate without taxing. In other words, if the Legislature appropriates millions for the schools and prisons and highways and other state needs, it must at the same time provide the taxes to pay for the spending. There can't be deficits.

And state spending plans are far out of line with state income prospects under the present taxes. Tax reform — an income tax — has been proposed to pick up the slack. If that fails Gov. Romney proposes an austerity budget to cut state services back to the level of the state's income.

There is no prospect that the state would accept austerity. Even more than a means of bringing spending and taxing into balance, it is a technique for getting more taxes voted. People dislike lack of certain government services — good highways, care of the mentally ill, good schools — even more than they dislike high taxes.

So if the legislators fail to enact an income tax this week they'll probably be back at Lansing in special sessions in the fall to do it.

Both Republicans and Democrats regard an income tax as not only desirable, but inevitable. Its paradoxical, to have the Democrats withhold support of the income tax now — a few Republicans are also balking in the House — because the Democrats have been preaching for years that the state should have an income tax. Now one is proposed and they balk.

Their objection is to the kind of a tax proposed. Michigan's constitution permits only a flat rate tax. The Democrats want a sliding rate tax like the federal income tax: the more income you report, the higher the tax rate. In an effort to woo Democratic votes for a state income tax it was proposed that the legislation have a referendum clause for validation. Democratic State Attorney General Frank Kelley said that was unconstitutional.

The Democrats face the practical problem of getting the people to amend the constitution to permit a sliding rate income tax when they couldn't get the 1963 Constitutional Convention to incorporate such a tax in the state's new charter. Economists say that a flat rate income tax is not fatally regressive because the big incomes pay in proportion to their volume, even though the rate is flat.

A more practical issue raised by the Democrats questions the proportion of the tax to be borne by individuals and the portion to be borne by business. What these proportions should be is what the fight in Lansing is about chiefly. There are some emboldenments of this central theme, like Democratic determination to humble George Romney as a presidential prospect, and Republican standpatism. But with enough agreement on who'll pay what, the income tax will move to enactment.

The Senate bill on the subject provided a 27 per cent share of the tax for business and the rest to be borne by individuals. The House bill called for 10 per cent from business and the rest from individuals. The point of compromise was indicated in the 20 per cent bracket for business, with the rest to be borne by individuals.

The issue here is partly political, partly economic. The Democrats are trying to make politics out of economics, but their economics are partly political. Economists say that individuals finally pay all taxes. The question then becomes: Which individuals? If Michigan can saddle out-of-state buyers of Michigan products with part of the tax, that's reckoned good business, but there's a limit to this process. When Michigan taxes become more burdensome on manufacturers and business than they are in other states business leaks away to the other states.

Michigan's present tax position among the states that it competes with for industry is not the highest, but it's near the top. A burdensome income tax on manufacturers may make good political jammer, but it makes a poor economy.

Copper Country Excursions Set

CALUMET (AP) — Steam locomotives hauling passengers instead of ore and timber will once again puff their way through the copper country of Michigan's picturesque Keweenaw Peninsula this summer.

The venture, a reactivation of the once-popular steam railway excursions of the Keweenaw Central Railway, is due to be launched about July 1.

The project is being promoted by four railroad buffs—Clint Jones of Iron River; Lou Keller of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Frank Glaesner and Fred Tonne of Milwaukee, Wis.

The four acquired an 85-ton copper-range locomotive built in 1907 along with other equipment including passenger excursion cars.

The trains will make an excursion run of about six miles from the Calumet Yard to near Lake Linden.

There are plans to reopen a branch line to Copper City, northeast of Calumet at a later date.

The victims were Peter Leopold, 34, and his wife, Julie, 32. Each was struck by a shotgun blast as they stood near the home of Richard G. Anderson, 39, police said.

The shooting was the aftermath of an argument that started with a fight between Anderson's daughter and a neighbor boy. The argument resulted in broken windows in the front of Anderson's home.

Police said Leopold was shot on the front porch of the Anderson home and his wife was killed nearby.

"So What Are You Going to Do About It?"

Democrats Launch V-68 To Recapture Statehouse

By JIM NICHOLS

LANSING (AP) — It isn't a vitamin pill and it isn't a drink. V-68 is a plan for recapturing the Michigan House of Representatives.

It involves not only the usual stuff of politics — badges, buttons, bumper stickers and brochures — but also athletes sky-writing, recruiting contests and cookbooks.

And it suggests rallying women, youth, businessmen, political independents and ethnic groups in support of the state Democratic party.

"V" For Victory
V-68 stands for victory in 1968, and if Michigan Democrats adopt the suggestions of a Detroit advertising and public relations agency, you'll be hearing the cryptic abbreviation many times this fall.

You may even see it written in the sky.

Prepared by MG Advertising Inc. and distributed to Democratic legislators last week by Secretary of State James Hare, the V-68 program suggests:

—Channeling most Democratic political effort toward regaining the House, which the 1966 Republican sweep left dejected 55-55 and which now is 56-54 Republican because of two members' deaths.

—Working hardest in 21 "marginal" House districts, all won by Democrats in 1964 but split between 11 Democrats and 10 Republicans today.

—Selling special new V-68 memberships at $5 and up beginning in September, after the regular 1967 party membership sales drive has run out of gas.

—Concentrating on voter identification instead of just mass registration, to avoid spending a lot of Democrat time to get a lot of Republicans to the polls.

No Governor's Race
But although chiefly aimed at saving 11 Democrats and ousting 10 Republicans, the V-68 planners think their project can hold other Democrats in the unprecedented 1968 campaign.

The 1968 general election will be the first one in Michigan history in which there will be no governor's race to stir local interest.

"The nonpartisan State Supreme Court contests and partisan educational posts are important," the V-68 booklet notes, "but they cannot be expected to set the pace and provide the rallying point for a Michigan political campaign."

What might do it, the planners think, is welding the 21 House contests together into a single project and working to "concentrate our firepower, not scatter it where it can do little or no good."

The advertising firm suggests kicking V-68 off with a bang in September, with rallies, advertisements, maybe even getting an airplane to write "V-68" amid the clouds.

To Seek Celebrities
Get entertainers, celebrities and sports figures to appear at the rallies, at dinners, and form special V-68 organizations of young people, women, ethnic groups and business and professional people.

One way to interest women in the party, it suggests, is holding recipe contests and compiling the winning entries into a "Democratic cookbook."

Democrats in the crucial V-68 districts could have new-membership contests, it adds, with one new member counting twice as much as one re-elected and with the contest winners—50 or 75 of them — being flown to Washington to meet the President. Sen. Phil Hart and Michigan's Democratic congressmen. The 11 Democrats in the V-68 program would try hardest to get re-elected are:

William Fitzgerald and Josephine Hunsinger, Detroit; Richard Young, Dearborn Heights; James Tierney, Garden City; Edward Mahalak, Romulus; Raymond Kehres, Monroe; Daniel Cooper, Oak Park; Albert Horrigan, Flint; James Callahan, Mount Morris; Francis Beedon, Muskegon, and Jack Gering, Iron Mountain.

Varnum Target
The 10 Republican seats Democrats would work hardest to capture are held by:

Louis Schmidt, Livonia; Roy

Smith, Ypsilanti; Thomas Brown and Philip Pittenger, Lansing; Donald Bishop, Rochester; Allen Rush, Lake Orion; David Serotkin, Mount Clemens; James Smith, Davison; Johannes Kolderman Jr., Wyoming, and Charles Varnum, Manistiquette.

There are nine districts mentioned as possible additions to the V-68 program. They are represented by:

Soviets Shun Logic

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is now possible to piece together Moscow's tactics in the Middle East war.

A short time before the crisis, the Russians worked on Gamal Abdel Nasser's men in Moscow. It is known that the Soviet Union men whispered, among many other things, that Israel was massing troops on the Syrian border. Moscow also hinted strongly to Nasser that Russia would give him backing in a strong, dramatic gesture of confrontation with Israel.

Thereupon, Nasser asked the United Nations forces to leave, massed his own troops on Israel's borders and blockaded the Gulf of Aqaba.

By Soviet Communist theory this should have put the United States on the spot. Washington had two choices: It could keep its pledge to Israel to keep Aqaba open. Then Russia could paint the United States as an "aggressor" against the Arabs.

On the other hand, the United States could decide not to run the blockade. Assuming that no war broke out, Moscow could paint the United States as ineffectual, unable to keep its agreements when the going got rough.

Note that the Arabs were committed, in co-operation with Moscow, to a series of belligerent acts — blockading Aqaba, stoning American and British embassies, accusing the United States of bombing Arab nations.

(One major Communist tactic is to lure men into some illegal act or deed in co-operation with Communists. This helps to "tie" them psychologically to the Communists. In Communist jargon, it "commits" them.)

In the pre-shooting blockade period and early in the shooting war, when it was not certain who was winning, the Soviet Union blocked effective United Nations action.

When it was clear that Israel was winning, the Russians moved fast in the United Nations to co-operate with a cease-fire proposal, delaying only long enough to make an unsuccessful attempt to get the U. N. to order the Israelis back to old boundaries.

Once the U. N. Security Council agreed on a truce, the Soviet Union moved to its next tactical maneuver—using the U. N. and television as a sounding board in an attempt to brand the United States,

Britain and Israel as aggressors.

The Soviet bloc went at this branding by being always on the attack. They didn't attempt logic. They just attacked.

When Israel agreed to a truce and Egypt and Syria didn't, the Russians ignored the Arab defiance of the U. N. The Moscow bloc just kept verbal-ly attacking Israel, the United States and Britain.

Truces are notoriously difficult to effect quickly. In a battle there are always units which don't get the word. Later, when reports came in of truce violations by both sides, the Russian bloc continued to accuse Israel of "aggression." They kept the United States, British and Israeli spokesmen busy defending.

The Russians didn't win any U. N. Security Council test votes. But they obviously didn't hope for this. What Moscow wanted and what it got was a propaganda field day on television programs going out to hundreds of millions of listeners worldwide.

The Russian aim was—through repetition, not logic—to picture the United States as "the real aggressor" in the Middle East war.

The United States will have to develop some way to counter these Soviet tactics if we are to spoil Soviet fishing in troubled waters.

Oswald: "The almost universal use of the 4-3-2-1 point count means that many hands will be bid just the same way by a couple of students who have taken just one or two lessons as by the greatest top players in the world."

Jim: "South has a standard 16 point no-trump. Expert North will count his 22 points; shake his head a couple of times and then bid the grand slam. Beginner North may miscount, otherwise he will get to 22 also, add that to 16 to produce 38 and also bid the grand slam, because he would have learned that 37 is the magic number for a grand slam."

Oswald: "Expert South will look over the dummy and see that there are only 12 top tricks and that he will have to do something about the queen of clubs if he wants to make his grand slam. Then expert South will proceed to run off four hearts, four diamonds and two spades in order to get some idea of where the queen of clubs will be found. He will be able to discard one club from each hand in the process."

Jim: "At this point all expert South's worries will be over. He will have seen West show out on the second lead of each red suit and can count East for 10 red cards. When East follows to the second spade he will have counted 12 of his cards. He will know that East cannot have more than one club so he will cash his king of clubs and finesse against West's queen for the 13th trick."

Oswald: "This hand experts would call a laydown because when they get around to the crucial play they have transformed a probability into a certainty."

Jim: "Beginner South might go down. Maybe his two lessons did not include one on finessing. Thus he would wind up by playing the ace and king of clubs and be forced to concede the last trick."

Oswald: "Some average players would lose the hand also. They would not bother to count the East-West distribution and would wind up misguessing the club situation."

Ann Landers

Dream Castles Are Only Make-Believe

Dear Ann Landers: I am a woman in my 70's but nobody would guess it. I have been married for over 40 years to a solid citizen whose interest in sex went dead about 10 years ago. His impotence was a relief to me because that part of our marriage was never very satisfactory. We raised a nice family and I did my duty but there was very little excitement.

Last year we had our home remodeled. A man 12 years my junior worked here for one week. This may sound silly to you but we fell madly in love. We didn't do anything disgraceful but we did have a wonderful time together. We both knew it was a losing battle with partners and age against us, and he went out of my life as suddenly as he had come in.

I can't get this man out of my mind. I wake up at night longing for him while my poor husband is snoring in the next room. Isn't it crazy that I can't have peace in my old age? I keep wondering what my grandchildren would say if they knew about this.

Please tell me, Ann, am I the only woman my age with these ideas? You might call it sick, but it's real and it's something I have to live with. Can you bring this subject into the open for discussion? — YOUNG AT HEART

Dear Heart: Of course there are other women your age who are still interested in sex. But don't delude yourself into thinking you are in love — not in one week lady.

Be glad you didn't do anything "disgraceful" because the price, in terms of guilt and shame would not have been worth it. Dream castles are fun to visit, Granny, but don't try to live in one.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old boy who is trying awfully hard to get along with my parents. The trouble is, whenever we have a difference of opinion they take turns giving me a lecture. When my Mom runs out of breath my Dad starts in. If I try to explain my ideas they say, "Be quiet. We don't want any back talk."

Do you think it is back talk when a person wants to present his side of a disagreement? I port the ratification of the Constitution.

make an attempt to speak, but they don't let me finish a sentence.

Please give your opinion. My folks always praise your column. Thank you. — A FRIEND IN NEED

Dear Friend: One of the essentials of a good relationship is the free exchange of ideas. Parents who speak WITH their children, rather than AT them find that their ideas are more readily accepted. The ability to disagree without being disagreeable is the mark of a civilized person. All kids should be given the privilege of practicing the fine art of rebuttal.

Dear Ann Landers: The other afternoon I invited a friend of mine for a game of bridge. She said, "I'm sorry but I am going to a dog shower today." I said, "A WHAT?" She then explained that her neighbor had just bought a new dog and she was having a shower for him. Of course each guest is supposed to bring a gift. I have heard of some nutty things in my life but this beats them all.

What is wrong with a woman who would insult her friends by inviting them to a party for a dog? — MORTIFIED

Dear Mort: This is probably her idea of something novel and imaginative. I'm not going to concern myself, however, as I was not invited. How about you?

Evers Attacks 'Black Power'

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Evers, Mississippi director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has attacked advocates of Black Power saying, "Supremacy is the worst enemy we have."

Evers spoke Sunday at a "Target Freedom '67" rally in Detroit. The rally was called primarily to raise funds for Negro voter registration campaigns in the South.

"We're not talking about Black Power," Evers said. "We're talking about political and economic power." He said the advocates of Black Power "haven't won anything yet."

Evers said there are 29 counties in Mississippi that are predominantly Negro. "We are going after them," he said. Evers also expressed a hope that all Negroes will block vote against all extremists—black or white.

The rally also featured speeches by NAACP national director Roy Wilkins and United Auto Workers director of education Roy Reuther.

Reuther — filling in for his brother, UAW president Walter Reuther — proposed that voter registration throughout the country be made automatic for every taxpayer.

Wilkins, taking the lead of Reuther, said not enough was being done to get Negroes in the North registered to vote.

"Down in Mississippi, they're dying for the right to vote while in Detroit and New York they're laughing it off," he said. "They're getting more like white folks all the time."

"The only thing keeping Negroes in Harlem from registering is their own downright laziness."

Pipeline Project To Begin Despite Legal Challenge

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. President Richard McElvenny says construction of the Great Lakes natural gas pipeline will begin as scheduled despite what he called an "almost certain" legal challenge against the project.

The 1,000 mile link will carry natural gas from western to eastern Canada across Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. It will bring natural gas service to the eastern Upper Peninsula for the first time.

McElvenny said construction of the first section of the pipeline will begin July 6 at St. Clair.

He said the Great Lakes Transmission Co. will build the pipeline "at our own risk." There is no way opponents can block construction, McElvenny said.

Last week, after two and a half years of hearings and debate, the Federal Power Commission approved the project and awarded the contract to Great Lakes Transmission, a U.S.-Canadian combine.

McElvenny said the project should be completed by the end of next year.

S. Vietnamese, Koreans Report Killing 148 Reds

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers and South Korean marines bore the brunt of ground fighting in Vietnam Sunday and reported killing 148 Communist soldiers.

Only light and sporadic contact was reported by U. S. units conducting 21 major ground sweeps.

U. S. headquarters reported 153 American air missions over North Vietnam Sunday, almost all against supply routes. As they have for almost a month, American pilots avoided the Hanoi-Haiphong region. The official reason given was bad weather.

South Vietnamese paratroopers scored the biggest success of the day in the 1st Corps area just below the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam. On a search-and-destroy operation the paratroopers jumped a major enemy force and reported they killed 105.

Supported by armored personnel carriers and air strikes, the airborne battalion of about 500 men overpowered what was evidently an enemy company or more. The South Vietnamese said they captured 19 weapons, including seven mortars and machine guns, and suffered only "light casualties."

A South Korean patrol ran into a guerrilla band in coastal Phu Yen Province and killed 43 while suffering no casualties, according to Korean headquarters. The fight lasted 2½ hours. Then the guerrillas fled.

U. S. headquarters reported an unusual rescue Sunday when a big twin-engine Chinook helicopter flew into Dinh Tuong Province about 40 miles southwest of Saigon to save a group of infantrymen trapped inside an armored personnel carrier.

The 13-ton vehicle had been blown up and overturned by a mine. The big chopper raised the vehicle so medics could get out the wounded. It was not known how many casualties there were.

Troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade reported scattered contact in the central highlands area where Communist forces chopped up a paratrooper company last Thursday. Night bivouacs of the 173rd were harassed by grenade-throwing enemy but no major fights developed.

U. S. headquarters said late reports showed 106 North Vietnamese regulars died in the battle in which 80 U. S. paratroopers were killed and 130 wounded.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

The Rev. Lester J. Maitland, hero of the first non-stop flight from the United States to Hawaii with Lt. Albert Hegenberger, marks the 40th anniversary of that historic first in the Pacific on Wednesday of this week.

It was on June 28, 1927 that Lt. Maitland piloted a three motor Fokker plane from California to Hawaii. The 2,400 mile flight took 25 hours and 49 minutes and his only communication with ships at sea was a battery radio that didn't work.

The Rev. Fr. Maitland, an Episcopal priest since the 1950s, when he left office as director of Michigan Department of Aeronautics to become a clergyman, is now vicar of the Good Shepherd Episcopal Church in the desert community of Cave Creek, 20 miles north of Phoenix, Arizona.

Now 67, the hero of aviation pioneering in the Pacific served his first assignment by his church in Iron River and his second at St. Stephen's Church in Escanaba. He was active here in civic affairs as well as spiritual guidance and with Msgr. Martin B. Melican organized a citizens committee which worked for greater amity between organized labor and employers.

He studied for the ministry after 30 years in the military which took him to the rank of brigadier general.

Hegenberger now lives in — of all places — Maitland, Florida!

Steel Salvaged From Freighter

ALPENA (AP) — Salvaging of steel cargo valued at more than $1 million still is going on at the wreckage of the West German freighter Nordmeer, blown around on a rocky Lake Huron shoal by a storm last November.

The Nordmeer foundered in a storm which preceded by 10 days one which tore apart the U.S. freighter Daniel J. Morrell and sent it to the bottom Nov. 29 with the loss of 28 lives. Only one Morrell crewman survived.

The Nordmeer, its stern awash but its superstructure and bow above water, lies on Thunder Bay reef about 15 miles northeast of Alpena. Its crew was rescued by helicopter, whose pilot later was to win the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroic work in bowing, snow-filled winds.

The Nordmeer's principal cargo was coiled steel. There were 900 coils weighing eight to 12 tons each. The Malcolm Salvage Co. of Marine City reports about 100 yet are to be removed. Salvage operations had to await melting of winter's ice sheath.

Pulpwood Harvest Rises In Peninsula

Pulpwood is the most valuable renewable resource in the Upper Peninsula. In 1966 sales set another record despite labor shortages in the woods, weather and other troubles, and indications are that this year's harvest of wood in Michigan may set an all-time high of 2 million cords.

The 1966 production totaled 1.5 million cords.

Ray Pfeiffer, of the Michigan Department of Conservation reports that the forest of Michigan can support such a high wood production volume and even increase it if good forest cutting management practices are followed. Growth permits increased volumes of wood, he says, and cutting must be controlled to obtain maximum growth.

The 9th annual report on production of pulpwood did not include cordage wood used for charcoal (chemical), particle board, crating and pallets, although similar cordage goes to those usages.

Huge Increase
The U.P. production of pulpwood has risen from 556,000 cords in 1958 to 837,339 cords in 1966 and in the Lower Peninsula the increase rate was even greater, from 342,800 to 698,938 cords.

Aspen remained the No. 1 volume wood in the U.P., 378,105 cords; pine was second, 110,475 cords; hemlock third, 98,928 cords; other hardwoods fourth, 85,894, just ahead of balsam with 85,504. Others included spruce, 73,360; birch, 4,640; and tamarack, 601.

In the Lower Peninsula aspen led, too, with even more production than in the U.P., 398,363 cords, indicating its management by clear-cutting to keep this fast growing species coming, while in the U.P. forest succession had introduced other hardwoods after the aspen was cut. More pine was cut in the Lower Peninsula than in the U.P. but its production of balsam, and spruce was small, it produced no hemlock, but twice as much birch as the U.P.

Chips Increase
Byproducts used as pulpwood (wastewood chips, etc.) contributed 34,195 cords of the U.P.'s total and 41,198 cords downstate, a total of 75,391 of the state's total of 1.5 million.

Mills in Michigan are using an increasing share of the pulpwood from Michigan forests. From 1950 to 1966 the volume of round pulpwood exported increased 42 per cent, but the in-state-consumption increased 289 per cent! In this same period of troops from conquered Arab territory. He again accused Israel of aggression and said it should have to pay damages. Johnson has said troop pullbacks must be arranged as part of a peace settlement.

Kosygin said a settlement in Vietnam is possible "only on the basis of stopping the bombing and withdrawal of United States troops." When he was asked whether he foresaw early steps to end the war, he replied: "I wouldn't say that."

No Encouragement
On a proposal by Johnson for U. S.-Soviet talks to avoid an expanded nuclear arms race for antiballistic missile system, Kosygin said the Soviet Union is interested in talking about general disarmament. He gave no encouragement to U. S. hopes for action in this field.

The final round of the Glassboro talks began when Kosygin arrived in the New Jersey college community between New York and Washington at 1:33 p.m. Johnson had flown in an hour earlier.

Johnson and Kosygin lunched, talked and met privately until 6:25 p.m.

Escanaba Girl Injured Sunday

Mary Ann Richards, 16, 2122 3rd Ave. S., Escanaba, is listed in "good" condition today in St. Francis Hospital following an accident yesterday.

According to State Police of the Gladstone Post, she lost control of her motorbike while attempting to pass an automobile on U.S. 2 and 41 near the Gardens of Rest Cemetery at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

State Police are continuing the investigation.

Party Raided After Drowning

PONTIAC (AP) — Investigating a youth's drowning, Oakland County sheriff's men broke up an alleged beach drinking party Sunday and made 21 arrests. Wine, beer and whisky were confiscated.

The drowning of Frank Thomas Zatorski, 18, of Detroit, identified as one of the partying group, led to a beach raid on Lower Straits Lake in Commerce Township.

Zatorski drowned after jumping from a raft. He apparently could not swim, officers said. Two lifeguards recovered the body.

Sheriff's men said they discovered the drinking in answering a report on the drowning. The liquor was found in the trunks of seven cars, officers said.

The arrested group, all Detroiters, included five juveniles who were released to their parents.

Two of the group, Michael Cichowas and Norman Koscielski, were charged with furnishing alcoholic beverages to minors. The 14 others, all under 20, were charged with illegal possession of liquor.

Hussein said there is no chance for peace while Arab territory is occupied. He was vague on whether the Arabs would negotiate with Israel.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, in another television interview, predicted that the Arabs would negotiate if Israel maintained the occupation because "they can only change that situation by securing our agreement."

Treasury Awaits Senate Debt OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like the bill-laden husband waiting for the finance company to give him a loan, the Treasury waits this week for the Senate to say it is okay to run the national debt higher.

The Senate faces a midnight Friday deadline for action if it is to keep the debt from suddenly being far higher than allowed by law. Favorable action with time to spare is expected, however.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said he would be forced to put an "Out of Business" sign on the Treasury door if the bill isn't approved.

The temporary debt ceiling now is $336 billion. The permanent ceiling of $285 billion will go back into effect at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, which is the start of a new fiscal year, unless action comes.

The House earlier this month narrowly approved a hike in the permanent ceiling to $358 billion, with another $7 billion available after July 1, 1968.

The Senate Finance Committee is expected to approve the plan and send it on for final Senate action and presidential signature.

The Senate, ready for legislative business after spending nine days on the census of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., planned to meet two hours earlier than usual so it could work toward a 10-day Fourth of July recess to begin Thursday.

Prime business in the House is action on a compromise authorization for the National Teachers Corps—the program which sends special teams of teachers to work with underprivileged pupils in slum areas.

The bill would authorize $135 million for the corps over the next three years—90 per cent of the program's financing. But local school officials, with state school agency approval, would recruit, select and enroll the corps members. The federal government now does this.

If the authorization is not granted by Friday, $3.8 million in funds appropriated for the current year will be lost.

Senate leaders plan quick action if the House approves the bill, worked out in committee last week.

Fisherman Saves Fawn Of Doe Killed By Poacher

James Beaudin, 402 Fisher St., Marquette, was witness the other day to a wildlife tragedy that would have been even more brutal if he hadn't happened along.

He was walking cross country to his car after fishing in Big Creek about 12 miles south of Marquette when he came upon a dead doe with its hind quarters cut off. Inspection revealed that the deer had been hit in the neck and front legs with buckshot from a violator's gun.

Lying near its dead mother and barely alive itself was the doe's fawn.

Beaudin carried the emaciated fawn to his car and drove to Marquette, where he turned the fawn over to Conservation Officer John Bezotte.

With the assistance of his wife and children, Bezotte brought the fawn back to health. It will be taken to the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station at Shingleton, where it will be cared for until being released later this summer.

Grand Rapids Girl Is Miss Michigan For 1967

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Toni Jo Abbenante awoke to a whole new world today.

Her run of bad luck appeared broken and how else could life look rosy to a pretty, auburn-haired 19-year-old who has just won the title of Miss Michigan?

The Grand Rapids girl won the title in Muskegon Saturday night. Her official life started today, posing for formal portraits.

"I was so excited I burst into tears," Miss Abbenante said Saturday night after she received the crown from Nancy Ackert, Miss Michigan of 1966.

Caught Fire

Toni had her problems during the Miss Michigan pageant. Two days after she was selected Miss Michigan Junior College a float on which she was riding caught fire. She was unhurt, however.

Then, Friday, she fell from the stage during a rehearsal.

Dr. Raymond Huldin, pageant physician, said she bruised her right arm, hip and leg.

Friday she learned she could not get television clearance to use an excerpt from George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" for her dramatic reading in the talent contest.

With only hours to go, she started working on a piece by Grace Atkinson of White Lake, a dramatic reading entitled, "Then You'll Remember Me."

"I stayed up late Friday night reading the script," she said. "And I went over it several times Saturday."

Oh, yes, she wore No. 13 in the pageant.

Brown-eyed Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Abbenante of Grand Rapids, won the swimsuit competition Friday. She now prepares for the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J., September 9. She was a student at Grand Rapids J.C.

Plans To Teach

The pert, 5-foot-4½, 110-pound graduate of East Grand Rapids High School said she plans to enter Western Michigan University and intends to teach speech and drama in secondary education.

She has appeared in a number of Grand Rapids Civic Theater productions, and lives at home with her parents and 8-year-old brother Barry. She has two older married sisters.

Her father owns and operates the A.B.L. Manufacturing Co., a tool and die shop in Grand Rapids.

As Miss Michigan, Toni wins not only the right to represent the Wolverine State in Atlantic City, but the bulk of $11,000 worth of prizes from Michigan firms and individuals.

First runnerup in the pageant was Mary Louise Paxton, 20, of Traverse City, Miss Michigan winter sports.

Second runnerup is Linda Jane Hale, 19, of Boyne City, Miss Boyne.

Next was Linda Kaye Christie, 18, of Alpena, Miss Alpena.

The fourth and last runnerup was Nancy Suzanne Raisanen, 18, of East Detroit, Miss East Detroit.

Represents County

Miss Delta County, Penny Lou Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson, 913 S. 16th St., Escanaba, represented the county in the pageant. Penny is a 5'7" 34-22-34 beauty, with brown-blond hair. She is a 1965 graduate of Escanaba High School.

For her talent presentation in the pageant she performed the same modeling skit as in the local Delta County pageant.

Miss Johnson became the first girl in Delta County history to be among the 10 finalists selected in the Miss Michigan pageant. "The tears really flowed," said Penny. "I wouldn't trade this experience for all the money in the world."

Many Gifts

Some of the many gifts she received are a transistor radio, a pendant, many Toni and Pepsi products, and telegrams and flowers from people in Escanaba.

Miss Johnson said she got to know most of the contestants quite well, and of the winner she said, "Toni will make a great Miss Michigan."

Miss Delta County was taken to the pageant by a private plane piloted by Don LaVelle, a local Jaycee member and was personally directed and coached by Gordon Flath of Escanaba.

Governor's Lady Entertains At Seaside Summit

ISLAND BEACH STATE PARK, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey governor's wife says the 38-year-old daughter of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin is a "warm, lovely girl—the kind any mother would be proud of."

"She's so charming," Mrs. Richard J. Hughes said Sunday after entertaining Kosygin's daughter, Ludmilla A. Gvishiani, for more than three hours.

Other guests at what Mrs. Hughes called "a seaside summit" were Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her daughter Lynda Bird.

All spent the afternoon at the Hughes' 10-room summer home on the edge of the Atlantic Ocean while President Johnson and Kosygin discussed world problems 65 miles away at Glassboro, N.J.

A helicopter brought the ladies from Glassboro, to a windswept, 10-mile-long peninsula. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hughes pointed out sights in south Jersey during the 45-minute trip.

Mrs. Gvishiani saw vegetable and fruit farms, cranberry bogs, beaches filled with bathers, the Atlantic City boardwalk and the convention hall where Johnson was nominated by the Democrats in 1964.

The copter landed at a Coast Guard station one-half mile from the Hughes' seaside home. A three-car motorcade took the ladies to the 1½-story gray cedar shingle home over a traffic-free highway.

Security forces closed the 2,600-acre state park to incoming traffic during the visit.

At a luncheon prepared by the governor's cook and three neighbor women, the ladies dined on chicken and wild rice, a tossed salad with oil and vinegar dressing and white wine.

Romney Son Wedding Result Of Blind Date

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP) — A blind date blossomed into wedding plans for 23-year-old Ronna Stern.

The pretty, blue-eyed blonde becomes the bride of Scott Romney, elder son of Gov. and Mrs. George Romney, Aug. 23 in the Mormon Temple at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ronna's sister, Terry, was dating a friend of Scott's last summer.

"Terry arranged a date for Scott and me and we never dated anyone else after that," Ronna explained with a giggle.

The couple announced their betrothal within months.

The wedding will be a private, family affair, with only the Romneys, Ronna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harry Kraus of Bloomfield Hills, and the couple's brothers, sisters and in-laws flying West to attend.

Extra Blessing

"We wanted to be married in a temple because of the extra blessing you get," Ronna said. She explained that the union is sealed "for time and eternity" in a temple ceremony instead of "till death do you part" in a church ceremony.

Ronna joined the church only last November.

"I didn't become a Mormon just because of Scott," she said. "It's true that I wouldn't have become interested in the religion if I hadn't met Scott. I wouldn't have had any reason to go out and study it."

"But I have found something that I really believe in."

Because she is relatively new to the church, Ronna said she doesn't know many details of the wedding ceremony.

White Robe

She does know, however, that she will not be wearing a conventional wedding gown and veil. Instead, both she and Scott will don white robes, similar to those worn by choir members.

"I don't mind not wearing a gown," she insisted. "I think the important thing is being married in the temple."

Church elders will act as attendants.

"Scott will wear a plain gold band," Ronna said.

"I don't know what my ring will be like," she bubbled. "Scott won't let me see it until our wedding day."

Following the ceremony will be a private wedding breakfast in the roof garden of the Sky Room in the Hotel Utah. Reception will be held in Bloomfield Hills Aug. 25 and 27. Some 700 invited guests are expected at the gatherings in the Bloomfield Hills Country Club and the home of Ronna's parents.

Honeymoon

The newlyweds will fly to New York City and Bermuda for a two-week honeymoon before moving into their Cambridge, Mass., apartment.

Scott, 25, has two years of study remaining at Harvard University Law School.

"We have a modest apartment

Miss Ronna Stern

in Cambridge already," Ronna said. "We'll have to furnish it and that will be fun. But we have so much to take East with us. I think we'll have to hire a truck."

Ronna said she does not know if she will teach in the Boston area. She holds a bachelor's degree in education from Oakland University.

How does it feel to be the almost-daughter-in-law of a possible Republican presidential nominee?

"He's just Scott's dad to me," Ronna said of the governor. Her tone of admiration sounded remarkably like that of the governor's wife, Lenore.

"I believe he can do anything he wants to — but I'm prejudiced."

Pasarell Draws Reigning Champ In First Round

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Charlie Pasarell, the Puerto Rican who stands fourth in the U.S. tennis rankings, had a date on the center court at Wimbledon today which could make him the first hero of this year's tournament.

The hard-hitting 23-year-old Davis Cupper from Santurce was drawn to play Spain's Manuel Santana, the reigning champion, in the first round. The champion traditionally leads off the tournament on center court.

Pasarell has had tough luck in the Wimbledon draw in the last couple of years. Last year, too, he had to play the reigning champion—then Roy Emerson of Australia. That was in the third round. Pasarell lost in three straight sets.

The bookies have made Emerson the even money favorite to win the title for the third time in four years. Santa is second favorite at 4 to 1.

Last week's London Grass Court championships at Queen's Club did nothing except confuse Wimbledon prospects.

Santana and Emerson were both tumbled out of the tournament by players who are not seeded for Wimbledon. So were two other Wimbledon seeds, Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, No. 5, and Bill Bowrey of Australia, No. 8.

One of those who did the damage was Tom Okker, 22-year-old Dutch soldier who has been given leave from the Netherlands Army. He eliminated Emerson and Bowrey.

Santana was knocked out by Ray Moore of South Africa.

All this may mean nothing at Wimbledon. Queen's Club always seems to produce a string of strange results because many players use it to get the feel of grass courts before the big tournament.

For the first time ever, the United States did not have one player seeded in the men's singles.

Davis Cuppers Cliff Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, were the best bets to restore America's declining reputation.

Both played in the disastrous Davis Cup match at Quayaquil last week, when the United States was eliminated by Ecuador.

GARDNER DICKINSON of Florida wiggles an index finger at an 18 foot putt which missed the cup by inches on the No. 9 hole in the Cleveland Open Golf tournament Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

Cleveland Victory Snaps Long Wait For Dickinson

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It was a long five-year drought, but Gardner Dickinson figures the first place money $20,700 was worth waiting for.

"It was a very satisfying victory," the slightly built 135-pound Florida pro noted after he breezed home in even par 70 Sunday to win the Cleveland Open golf championship. He finished nine-under for the 72 holes with a 271.

It was the first four title since 1962 for the steady Dickinson who has become a familiar trademark on golf courses everywhere with his white-billed cap.

"I've played very consistently for a good while and haven't missed very many fairways. I've worked hard. But I can't give enough credit to Tony Penna who has worked tirelessly with me to help my game the last six years."

Penna is a pro from Palm Beach, Fla. Dickinson, whose best previous finish this year was a tie for third at Phoenix, Ariz., also credited fabled Ben Hogan for some lessons in 1954 when the Florida golfer got out of the Army.

Dickinson, who played the tight 6,611-yard Aurora Country Club course with precision accuracy, wasn't quite as sharp as in earlier rounds when he posted scores of 68, 66 and 67.

He said his best hole was the 192-yard 13th when he dropped in a 25-foot putt for a birdie.

"I thought I was in business when I holed that one."

The 39-year-old pro started the final round with a two-stroke advantage and coasted to his fourth-shot triumph in the $103,500 event as his closest pursuers couldn't make up the ground.

Two Texans, Miller Barber and Homero Blancas, finished tied for second with 275.

Tommy Aaron, who had the day's best round with a 66, closed in a five-way deadlock for fourth place with Jerry Edwards, Allen Henning, Phil Rodgers and Lou Graham. All had 277.

A stroke back at 278 were Cobie LeGrange, Wayne Yates and Arnold Palmer. Grouped at 279 were Lionel Hebert, Gene Littler, Bert Weaver and Billy Casper.

U.S. Open king Jack Nicklaus and Masters' champion Gay Brewer were locked at 282 with four others.

Yates, the young Georgian who had consecutive 66s to lead after the first and second rounds, fell to a 74. And Palmer, the tour's leading money-winner, collapsed early with bogeys on the first three holes.

Arnie shot a closing 73.

Dickinson, who had missed the cut only twice in 18 tournaments, raised his 1967 earnings to almost $45,000 in official money. His biggest money season came last year when he won more than $53,000.

The pro from Lost Tree Village, Fla., had 14 birdies and 5 bogeys in 72 holes, four of the bogeys coming on the final round.

The victory here was Dickinson's fifth in a 15-year pro career.

College Golf Champion Is Modest Young Man

SHAWNEE ON DELAWARE, Pa. (AP) — Hale Irwin, the University of Colorado marketing student who won the 70th annual NCAA golf championship is a painfully honest young man.

He had just won college golf's most coveted title, an accomplishment that bypassed such greats as Arnold Palmer, Lawson Little, Charley Coe and Bobby Jones. He had a right to be elated, cocky, ready to lick the world.

Not this 5-foot-6 inch football star who looks more like a golfer. In effect, he said he was terrible and that he almost backed into the title he wanted so badly.

He wasn't sure he belonged in the company of last year's winner, Bob Murphy of Florida, or the 1965 champ, Marty Fleckman, or such previous NCAA kings as Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers, R.H. Sikes and Kermit Zarley.

The fly in his championship ointment was a final round seven-over-par 79 Saturday on the 7,025-yard Shawnee Inn Golf Course. "I don't like to end a tournament playing so badly," he said, when he could have said, winning is the thing.

Irwin said only time will tell what his real position is in the amateur golf world. He plans to play in the Trans-Mississippi, Western and National Amateur this summer.

"I might play in some others, but money is a factor. Playing amateur golf is so expensive," he said.

He headed home after his four rounds of 70-72-65-79—286 gave him a two-stroke win over a trio deadlocked at 288—Bunky Henry, Georgia Tech placekicker; Ross Randall, San Diego State; and Robert Drue Johnson of Arizona State.

Frank Groves of the University of Michigan finished 23rd with 75-72-73-74 for a 294 stroke total.

Hydros To Run At Belle Isle

DETROIT (AP) — The peace and quiet of Detroit's Belle Isle park will take a beating this week.

A fleet of 17 speedboats, as big as small cruisers, more powerful than race cars and noisier than most anything will be thrashing around the Detroit River between the Detroit shore and the city's island park.

The boats will be practicing for Sunday's World Championship race for unlimited hydroplanes.

Qualifying runs will be made Monday through Friday. Drivers must get around the three-mile course at 90 miles an hour or better to make the field.

The hydroplanes average about 30 feet long and usually are powered by Allison or Rolls Royce World War II fighter plane engines, putting out more than 1,500 horsepower each.

Vince Lombardi, coach of the Green Bay Packers, coached the West Point line and backfield for six years under Earl (Red) Blaik.

PLYMOUTH WINS

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Richard Petty, driving a 1967 Plymouth, was in command most of the way as he won a 100-mile NASCAR Grand National stock car race at Greenville-Pickens Speedway over the weekend.

Walters, collecting $550 from two events, insured a Class DU victory Sunday with a second place finish on the Saginaw River 51-mile course after a collision forced out two other contenders. An estimated 10,000 spectators saw the races of a coast-to-coast field of 130 entries.

The boats of Fred Andrea Jr. of Port Huron and Bruce Alexander of Toledo, Ohio, crashed as Andrea was pulling into a pit. Both boats were damaged. Neither driver was injured.

The collision capped a run of bad luck for Alexander. The 25-year-old Toledo, Ohio, driver had been eliminated by engine trouble in the first DU heat Saturday.

Walters won the first heat and finished second Sunday in edging runnerup Chuck Frantz of Essexville. Third place finisher Mike Harris of Fort Wayne, Ind., won Sunday's heat but had failed to place Saturday. Frantz had second and fifth place finishes.

Ray Leak of Hickory Heights, Ill., former national champion, placed fourth. Ronnie Holl of Garden Grove, Calif., who flipped Saturday, borrowed a boat for the second heat and placed fifth.

Plymouth Driver Outboard Champ

BAY CITY (AP)—Speedboat racer Bill Walters of Plymouth, piloted his 13-foot "Wow" to top prize money in the Stock Outboard Marathon National of the American Power Boat Association Sunday.

Play It Safe, Winner Learns

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carol Mann says she learned something Sunday in her four-stroke victory in the $21,000 Buckeye Savings Ladies Professional Golf Tournament.

It was that "when a tournament breaks open in the closing holes, play it safe."

The tall blonde Miss Mann was on the 16th tee when she learned Clifford Ann Creed, with whom she had been in a neck and neck battle, had taken a double bogey on the 14th and had dropped four strokes behind.

"I've been that far ahead in other tournaments," she said, "but not by having the tournament broken open on the closing holes."

Even though playing it safe, Miss Mann got a birdie four on the par 5 17th and finished with a three under par 69. That gave her a 54-hole total of 207, nine under par and four strokes ahead of Miss Creed who finished with a 73, one over par for the Cloverbrook Country Club's layout. Miss Creed's 54-hole total was 211.

Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, Mich., finished with a 78-72-74—224 to win $257.50.

Back To Bullpen For Lolich After Eighth Straight

DETROIT (AP)—It's back to the bullpen for Detroit Tiger Mickey Lolich, who has lost eight straight games.

Mickey's record went to 5-19 in New York Sunday as the Yankees muffed the Tiger bats—with the help of a triple play—for a 3-2 victory.

Detroit plays an exhibition game with its Toledo farm club at Toledo tonight.

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said, "It's hard to say just what's wrong with Lolich. Being in the service hasn't helped."

Lolich is serving a two-week hitch in the Michigan Air National Guard and commutes from the base at Alpena to pitch when he can.

"I'll use Mickey in the bullpen until the All-Star break," Smith said. "Then we'll see how he's pitching before I can decide about using him as a starter again."

"We haven't played good ball," Smith said. "We especially didn't play well in New York. But we'll get going again."

"This is too good a ball club," Mayo added.

The Tigers lost three games to the Yankees and now sit four games out of first place, still holding second.

Dick McAuliffe led off the Tigers with a home run, his 12th of the season.

But the Yankees got two in the fourth to go ahead. Bill Robinson singled and Mickey Mantle walked. Elston Howard popped out, but when Lolich tried to pitch Robinson off second he threw wild and both runners advanced. Tom Fresh singled them home.

Joe Penitente singled and, after Charlie Smith struck out, Reuben Amaro walked the bases full.

Pat Dobson replaced Lolich and struck out Mel Stottlemyre to end the inning.

The Tigers had a great chance in the fifth as Don Wert and Ray Oyler singled with no one out. But Jerry Lumpe batted for Dobson and lined into a triple play.

Larry Sherry came in to pitch and gave up a run in the fifth on a single by Horace Clarke, a groundout, and a single by Mantle.

Sherry lasted into the sixth when he was replaced by Mike Marshall.

"Sherry has had a sore foot," Smith explained. "It got worse on him to the point where he couldn't push off the mound."

The Tigers almost pulled it out in the ninth. Norm Cash struck out, but Al Kaline and Willie Horton walked in succession. Jim Northrup grounded out to Mantle, but Kaline went to third and Horton to second on the play.

Bill Freehan came to bat, needing only a long single to tie.

Cubs Climb To Third Spot In NL Scramble

By The Associated Press
"Can Joey Niekro pitch?" yelled Randy Hundley.

"Yes, he can," bellowed Ron Santo.

"Can Ernie Banks hit?" shouted Dick Radatz.

"Yes, he can," answered Banks. "Let's play another one."

It went on and on. The surprising third-place Chicago Cubs were acting like a bunch of kids, having a ball after sweeping a doubleheader from Houston 4-1 and 6-0 Sunday.

It wasn't at all like a team that has not finished in first division since 1946.

The Cubs have blown their balloon so big, they've moved within four games of first place in the National League after front-running St. Louis lost a twinbill to Philadelphia 6-4 and 10-4.

Chicago also pulled within 1½ games of second-place Cincinnati as Pittsburgh beat the Reds 5-4.

Clete Boyer of Atlanta has been having a good time, too. His hot bat boosted the Braves to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets.

In the other National League game, Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 2-1 on Len Gabrielson's run-scoring pinch hit single in the ninth inning.

Some 31,000 fans, the largest Cub home crowd in two years, whooped it up all day and gave the 36-year-old Banks a standing ovation after each of his pair of two-run homers in the second game he was not supposed to play.

"If it had been a hot day, I wouldn't have played him," said Manager Leo Durocher after his team ran its winning streak to six, longest in four years.

Former relievers Bill Hands and Niekro, who probably would not have been starting at all if Ken Holtzman had not been called into the Army, pitched their first complete games in the major leagues.

Hands yielded only five hits in the opener after failing 27 times in two years to go the distance.

Niekro, a rookie making his fifth start, set the Astros down on three singles in the second game.

The Cubs got more help from the unexpected in the opener as Al Spangler, recalled from Tacoma Saturday, doubled in the first two runs off Don Wilson, making his first start since his no-hitter last Sunday against Atlanta.

Banks' 13th and 14th homers gave Niekro what he needed.

Don Lock drove the nail into the Cardinals, knocking in six runs with six hits, including two two-run homers. His first clout capped a three-run fifth inning in the first game for a 5-2 lead.

His second gave Philadelphia a 2-0 lead in the nightcap, and the Phils used four of five St. Louis errors to add six unearned runs.

Matty Alou shed two singles and home run and Manny Jimenez added a homer as the Pirates dealt the Reds their sixth loss in eight starts and left them 2½ games behind St. Louis.

Boyer, who never drove in more than 68 runs in a season in the majors, knocked in all Atlanta's runs with two singles and a double, raising his RBI total to 46, only one less than teammate Hank Aaron and seven off the league lead.

"There's no secret or anything different," Boyer said. "I'm just borrowing the RBI from Joe (Joe Torre, who is out with a sprained ankle).

"If he was playing, they'd be his. He'd be coming up in the situations I'm facing now. Those guys on base when I'm up now would be there so Joe could drive them in. I'd be following him."

The Braves also got help from another Niekro, Joe's brother Phil, who pitched three shutout innings to save the victory for Pat Jarvis.

Gabrielson's two-out hit off Frank breaking a 1-1 tie, came after Willie Davis singled and took second on an infield out, and gave Don Drysdale a seven-hit triumph.

The Eskey Cubs assumed their usual position atop the Waubung baseball league standings Sunday with a welcome assist from newcomer Cooks.

Coach Phil Hartman's Cooks crew handed Powers its first setback of the season, 7-6, in an 11 inning battle at Powers.

The Cubs took advantage of the break to vault into sole possession of first place by topping Schaffer, 6-2.

Kim Hartman stroked the deciding blow for Cooks in the top of the 11th inning, lashing a triple to score Bruce Swagart who had walked and Joe Carley who was on with an error.

Coach Bob Smith's Powers team jumped out to a 5-0 lead, powered by Doug LaCourse's three run homer in the fifth inning.

Cooks stormed back with five runs in the eighth inning on four hits, an error and a passed ball. That set the stage for Hartman's winning hit in the 11th.

Tom Miller went the distance.

while Randy Fochesato and Doug Benson shared pitching duties for Powers.

Coach Al Erickson's Cubs fashioned their second straight victory of the season behind Dan Mylander's lustrous hitting.

He stroked a triple, double and two singles in five trips to the plate. Tom Boyle and Larry Anderson chipped in with a pair of safeties each.

Warren Nye opened on the Escanaba hill and went six innings before stepping down for Lee Robitaille. Terry Murray and Jim Butryn shared the Schaffer mound.

All six Escanaba runs came home in the first three frames before Butryn came on in relief to slam the door on the Cubs. Schaffer scored its first run in the third. Bruce Murray led Schaffer at the plate with three hits and Marv Polishak added two.

One Game Behind Tigers

Red Sox For Real?

BOSTON (AP)—Are the Boston Red Sox for real? The next couple of weeks may provide the answer.

The Red Sox had sights trained on the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox today as they embarked on a 13-game road trip, their longest of the 1967 American League season.

"Sure, this trip is important, but every single game is important to us now," Manager Dick Williams said after the Red Sox climbed to within one game of second place Detroit and five of front-running Chicago with an 8-3 victory over Cleveland Sunday.

"Maybe we hoped to play .500 ball on the road in the past, but not now," Williams said as the Red Sox headed for the opener of a three-game series with the Minnesota Twins tonight.

"We know we can play good ball on the road as well as at home," Williams added. "We just have to go out there and do it. We definitely want to win more than we lose on this one, though."

In third place with a 35-32 record after winning four of their last five starts, the heavy hitting Red Sox visit Minnesota, Kansas City, Anaheim and Detroit before taking the annual break for the All-Star game.

However, the Red Sox have a couple of minor ailments. Shortstop Rico Petrocelli will be sidelined for a few more days with a bruised wrist. Tony Conigliaro also is nursing a bruised left forearm, but should be ready.

Gary Bell, a veteran right-hander obtained from Cleveland early this month, posted his 100th major league triumph and fourth in five decisions for Boston in the series winup with the Indians.

Bell wilted in the 92-degree heat, but was rescued in the Dave Andrews and Jack Smith of Escanaba shared medalist honors with Bill Jones and Bill Higley of Menominee Riverside with 34s.

Right-hander Gary Bell posted his 100th major league victory—and his fourth in five decisions—since Cleveland traded him to Boston last month.

Cougars Win Soccer Game

DETROIT (AP)—John Colrain apparently sits well on the bench.

The player-coach of the Detroit Cougars, who has sidelined himself for the rest of the United Soccer Association season, was quite pleased with the Cougars' 1-0 victory Sunday over Dallas Tornado.

"After all we beat the team that beat Glasgow Celtic, winner of the European Cup," said Colrain.

Tommy Morrow, who wasn't even on the Detroit's original traveling squad, provided the margin of victory when he drilled in a 10-yard shot at 7:40 of the second half.

Outside right Billy Sinclair combined with center forward Danny Tranter to set up the goal. Sinclair floated a high pass across the goal to Tranter, who headed the ball to Morrow, standing unmarked 10 yards from the goal.

Colrain shook up his lineup with effective results.

It was the first victory after three straight losses for the Cougars, represented by Glenoran of Belfast, Ireland.

Regulars like Trevor Thompson and Eric Ross didn't even dress for the game. Captain Walter Bruce sat out all but the final 12 minutes.

Dallas, represented by Dundee United of Scotland, outshot Detroit 31-25, but Detroit goalie John Kennedy was credited with 11 saves to only two for Sandy Davie of Dallas.

A crowd of 4,911 watched the action at University of Detroit Stadium.

In other USA action, Eastern Division leader Cleveland was handed its first loss, bowing to New York 2-1; Chicago whipped Houston 4-2 and the rest of the games ended in ties. Vancouver and Toronto 2-2; Boston and Los Angeles 1-1; and Washington and San Francisco 0-0.

In the National League Oakland downed Atlanta 2-0 and Chicago beat Philadelphia by the same score.

Reichardt's Inside Park Homerun Is Lucky Break For George Brunet

By The Associated Press
Rick Reichardt will remember his first grand slam homer as the one that didn't reach the seats.

The Kansas City Athletics will write it off as just another bad hop.

But California's George Brunet will count it as one of the few good bounces he's had all year.

Reichardt's initial bases-loaded homer in the majors—an inside-the-park shot that caromed crazily past right fielder Mike Herschberger in the first inning—carried Brunet and the Angels past the A's 4-3 Sunday.

The victory was only the fourth in 15 decisions for Brunet, a hard-luck southpaw who recently lost nine in a row while the Angels scored a total of 18 runs for him.

In other American League games, Minnesota topped the first place Chicago White Sox 3-1, Baltimore drubbed Washington 8-3, the New York Yankees shaded Detroit 3-2 and Boston whipped Cleveland 8-3.

Jim Fregosi beat out an infield hit with two out in the first inning and KC starter John "Blue Moon" Odom walked Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall, filling the bases, before Reichardt's drive off the right field fence skipped away from Herschberger.

Reichardt, a speedster despite his 215-pound bulk, chased Fregosi, Mincher and Hall across the plate for his ninth homer of the season.

Brunet gave up a run in the Athletics' first, then nursed the 4-1 margin until the eighth, when relief ace Minnie Rojas was called on to halt a two-run rally. Rojas retired the A's in order in the ninth, preserving the Angels' 15th victory in their last 20 games.

The Twins rallied for three runs with two out in the eighth, Earl Battey's two-run pinch triple keying the burst, and gave unbeaten Jim Merritt his fifth victory. Merritt allowed only three hits—including a run-scoring single by Don Buford in the third—before being lifted for a hitter during the winning rally.

Singles by Zoilo Versalles and Frank Kostro preceded Battey's triple off loser Tommy John and pinch runner Dave Boswell scored the third Minnesota run on Cesar Tovar's infield hit.

Baltimore's Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, stroked three hits apiece and scored five runs between them as the Orioles buried Washington under a 15-hit barrage.

Boog Powell, Curt Blefary and Vic Roznovsky each drove in a pair of runs, and rookie Tom Phoebus registered his sixth victory with relief help from Moe Drabowsky.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and bases-emup blasts by Joe Foy and Bob Tillman—who had three hits apiece—powered the Red Sox' attack.

Right-hander Gary Bell posted his 100th major league victory—and his fourth in five decisions—since Cleveland traded him to Boston last month.

REVERSED COVERING

Materials of lesser value are often covered with gold. In Bangkok, Thailand, however, a solid gold statue of Buddha was once covered with plaster to conceal its true value from invaders. Buddhist priests died without revealing the secret, but the gold came to light in 1956 when an accident cracked the plaster.

Battle Creek Woman To Head VFW Auxiliary

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Mrs. Jesse (Ruby) of Battle Creek Sunday was elected president of the Michigan Ladies Auxiliary Veterans of Foreign Wars. The election took place during the final business session of the state convention.

Mrs. Brown, an active member for 21 years, has served as president of a VFW auxiliary and was 7th District president in 1955-56. She has held several chairmanships on the state level and in 1965 won a national award for achievements as Michigan's national home chairman.

Republicans Plan Birthday Party

JACKSON (AP) — With Gov. George Romney a prime contender for the Republican party's presidential nomination, Michigan GOP members gather in Jackson July 8 to celebrate the party's birth.

Romney will be represented at the gathering by Lt. Gov. William Milliken.

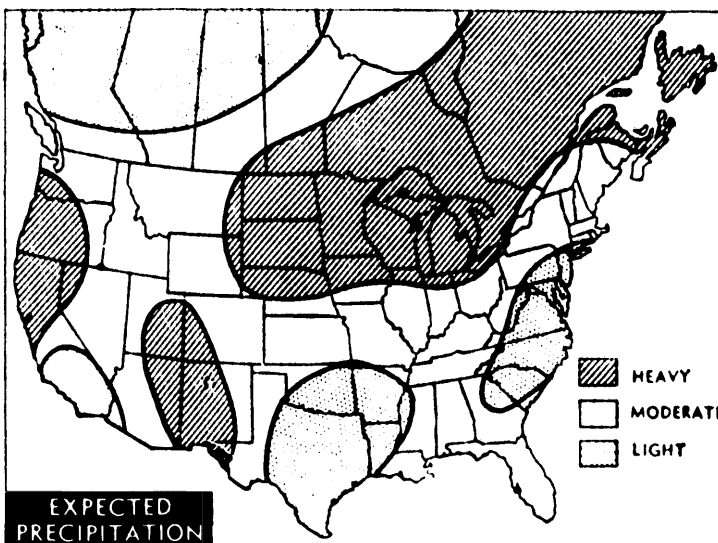

Other top Michigan Republicans also are scheduled for appearances at the fete, including Sen. Robert P. Griffin and Reps. Guy VanderJagt, Marvin Esch and Charles Chamberlain.

Iowa's Rep. F. Schwengel, an expert on matters related to President Abraham Lincoln, will make the main speech Saturday afternoon.

Summer Preview

TEMPERATURES are expected to average above normal for most of the country east of the Continental Divide. The Pacific Coast and particularly central California are in for cooler readings.

ABOVE-NORMAL PRECIPITATION is the outlook for the upper Midwest, the central Pacific Coast and the Southwest. Dry spots center in southern California, Texas and the mid-Atlantic states.

State Highway Deaths Hit 13

By The Associated Press
A father from West Bloomfield Township, near Pontiac, accidentally killed his 13-month-old daughter when he backed his truck over her.

The accident pushed to 13 the number of traffic deaths in the state over the weekend.

Four persons drowned in Michigan waters over the weekend.

The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. State Police said Christine Amato apparently crawled under the truck parked in the driveway of her home. Her father, Richard Amato, drove over her as he tried to back out Saturday, police said.

There were no fatal accidents reported in the Upper Peninsula.

Winds Damage State Airport

CHARLOTTE (AP) — One man was injured and several airplanes and hangars damaged when winds of 75 miles an hour buffeted Charlotte Saturday.

Eight aircraft were damaged and one hangar was destroyed at Charlotte Municipal Airport when a thunderstorm swept the southwest Michigan town. Damage was estimated at $45,000.

Robert Lord of Charlotte was injured when the hangar in which he was working was damaged by the high winds. He was reported in good condition with head and shoulder injuries at a local hospital.

Spruce Hen Study Funded By Science Foundation

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University has been awarded an $11,300 National Science Foundation Research grant to continue its study of the breeding habits and productivity of the spruce grouse. Often referred to as the "fool's hen," the spruce grouse is a non-game bird of little economic value that has been a species long neglected by sportsmen, bird-watchers and game managers.

Under direction of Dr. William Robinson, assistant professor in NMU's biology department, and now in its third year, the project originally was supported by Northern.

"Prior to 1912 the spruce grouse was abundant in Northern Michigan," Robinson said. "Now it is an uncommon species occurring as scattered populations only in the Upper Peninsula and a few counties of the northern Lower Peninsula. In certain Upper Peninsula areas, however, populations of spruce grouse have increased and are as dense as in some of the best habitat in North America."

Robinson stated that regrowth of spruce forests and jackpine probably are primary factors in the apparent increase.

He and an assistant recorded 111 sightings of spruce grouse on the Yellow Dog Plains of Marquette County in 1965 while 119 sightings were reported in 1966. Eighty-nine birds were banded in the first year and 56 the second.

Last winter, when trips were made on snowmobiles and searches on snowshoes were conducted to locate the winter habitat of spruce grouse, only eight of the species were seen. Robinson said the birds were difficult to locate then because of their tendency to spend most of the time in trees, particularly 10 to 20-year-old jackpines. Robinson plans to attach miniature radio transmitters to about a dozen birds in order to help locate nests and to trace the movements of broods. Such transmitters have been used successfully on ruffed grouse and sharp-tailed grouse in other states.

Summit Benefit Yet To Be Seen

By LEWIS GULICK

GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin marched up to the summit and down again without shifting their postures on issues deeply dividing the world's greatest powers.

This was not unexpected. But was the exercise worthwhile?

From the U.S. standpoint, the answer is probably a qualified yes. A more definite verdict can only come with time.

Analysis Of News

On the plus side is the face-to-face familiarity with the other man and his views that each leader gained in the 10 hours of talks, much of this in private sessions with only interpreters present. The two had never met before.

Another plus can be counted in their orders to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to negotiate on some of the political problems which the chiefs did not unravel at Glassboro.

Recognize Responsibility

The summit push to keep diplomatic contacts alive between Washington and Moscow, it is reasoned, can eventually lead toward solutions of some of the deeply imbedded difficulties between them.

President Johnson and President Kosygin apparently made clear to each other and to a concerned world that they recognize the awesome responsibilities of the superpowers in avoiding a nuclear holocaust.

But Kosygin, in his stern words at his U.N. news conference Sunday night, quickly stripped away any euphoria that may have sprung from the length of his two-stage parley with the President.

Fresh from the Glassboro, N.J., meeting Kosygin said publicly a sizeable chunk of what he told Johnson privately in the Hollybush library—that the route to Middle East peace lies through a pullback of Israeli troops and that the road to peace in Vietnam lies through withdrawal of the Americans.

Kosygin's tough line on Vietnam struck particularly hard, because he listed what he termed an end to U.S. aggression there as the No. 1 step needed to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

Plenty Of Problems
Only in the disarmament field, long a feature of U.S.-Soviet statements when agreement is sparse on other issues, was there some ring of optimism from on high.

Rusk and Gromyko are now expected to move somewhat faster in the lengthy effort for a Washington-Moscow draft of a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons. They want to put agreed wording before the 17-nation Disarmament Conference soon.

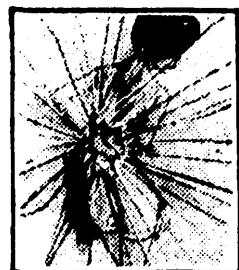

U.S. and Soviet diplomats will still have plenty of problems to work on after that.

New College

ROCHESTER (AP) — Oakland University will open its new New College this fall. The New College will feature a required performing arts workshop and a field term that requires students to go away from school and learn about society by living and working in it.

Mountain's Legends
Snow-crowned Mt. Damavand soars almost 19,000 feet above Iran's fertile plains. Among the many legends about the mountain are that the prophet Zoroaster lived on its slopes; the simurgh, fabulous bird of wisdom and great size, lived on its summit; and Faridun, a folk hero, chained the tyrant Zahak in one of its caves.
